JEFFREY J. KENYON, OD Pediatric & Binocular Vision Specialist

I have decided to specialize in this area of optometry because I sincerely enjoy working with the pediatric population. In my clinical experience thus far, I have discovered that I can effectively interact and communicate with children. Also, I believe there is a shortage of pediatric specialists in the eye care field. I have found that not all primary care practitioners provide specialty care for the pediatric population. Therefore, I am striving to create an opportunity where I can accept referrals from my fellow colleagues. Lastly, working with children is such a gratifying experience. Young patients can achieve positive results not only in their visual abilities but their functional abilities as well. Both the child and parents truly appreciate the practitioner's work because a direct impact is made on the child's well being. This provides me a practice filled with personal relationships, which will create a fulfilling career. Through my residency, I have gained advanced clinical experience within the pediatric population. This experience has given me an advanced understanding of the optometric field and given me more expertise as a practitioner. I am excited about the possibility of serving as a pediatric specialist in West Michigan.
